Truman Pledges U.S. Objective As Peaceful World

Would Make World Prosperous Through Marshall Plan And Trade Revival

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—President Truman today pledged United States foreign policy to the objective of "a peaceful and prosperous world" through the medium of the Marshall plan and a revival of international trade.

In his State of the Union message to Congress, Mr. Truman did not mention Russia by name but he recognized that "not all governments" share our hopes for economic reconstruction in Europe and Asia.

The President declared that "in spite of these differences we will go forward with our efforts to overcome economic paralysis."

Peace Efforts Blocked
Again, without directly naming the Soviet, Mr. Truman said that America's efforts to reach agreement on peace settlements for Germany, Austria, Japan and Korea "have so far been blocked," and added:

"But we shall continue to exert our utmost efforts to obtain satisfactory settlements for each of these nations."

The chief executive called upon Congress to "act promptly in authorizing the four-year European recovery program with its initial 15-month appropriation of six billion, 800 million dollars."

He answered demands for aid to China by promising that a special program to provide "urgent relief needs and to spend reconstruction" will soon be submitted to Congress.

Defends Greece Aid
Mr. Truman strongly defended his program of aid to Greece and Turkey which he said had aided these nations in preserving their own integrity. He said:

"Had it not been for our aid, their situation might well be radically different."

The chief executive devoted only one sentence to Latin-America. But he did promise that "we shall continue our cooperation with the nations of the Western Hemisphere."

The documents in support of the Marshall plan submitted earlier to Congress consisted of 15 volumes totalling 850 pages. Copies were given each member of the Senate Foreign Relations and the House Foreign Affairs Committees.

(BULLETIN)
HONOLULU, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The Russian ship Dvina, with 800 passengers aboard, radioed today that she was in distress 150 miles off the coast of Honshu Island, Japan.

A fragmentary report picked up by the naval radio station at Guam gave the Dvina's position as being off Tokodaki.

The report said the ship was listing 40 degrees and taking water in its engine rooms.

Coast Guard headquarters in Honolulu received a radio message from the American freighter Mercer Victory saying she was standing by the Dvina.

Officials at the Coast Guard said that the report that there were 800 passengers aboard might have been an error in transmission.

Surprise Given To Congress By Tax Proposals

Slash On Income Taxes And Boost On Corporation Taxes Urged By Truman

By WILLIAM E. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—President Truman startled the Republican Congress today by urging a three billion 200 million dollar tax slash for low income groups, offset by increased levies on rich corporations.

The chief executive, appearing in person before a joint session of Congress, offered his tax adjustment plan as part of a 10-year program for improving human welfare in the United States and the maintenance of world peace.

Inflation Major Problem
Mr. Truman gave top priority in his State of the Union message to the "major problem" of inflation, which he said "affects all our goals."

The President called for creation of a new cabinet post. He asked establishment of a Federal Department of Health, Education and Security, headed by a cabinet member.

The President emphasized the necessity for strong American armed forces, early enactment of the Universal Military Training Act, and swift Congressional approval of the Marshall plan for European recovery.

Rent Control System
His message demanded a rigid rent control system and intensified efforts to solve the housing crisis, defense of natural resources against "those who would misuse it for selfish gain" and vast flood control and hydro-electric projects.

Mr. Truman called forcefully for a higher standard of living for all Americans, with wage geared to sound prices and "restraint and wisdom" in labor-management relations. He asked that the minimum wage rate be raised from 40 cents to 75 cents per hour.

SOME HIGHLIGHTS OF TRUMAN'S MESSAGE

Inflation program to the congress on November 17 have made it even clear that all ten points are essential.

Marshall Plan—The president reaffirmed his support for the economic reconstruction of western Europe and again promised special assistance to China. He said: "I urge the congress to act promptly on this vital measure of our foreign policy—on this decisive contribution to world peace."

National Defense—The president declared the United States must be strong to be an effective force for world peace and this requires universal military training. He said: "There are many elements in a balanced national security program, all inter-related and necessary, but universal training should be the foundation for them all."

Social Welfare—The president said the nation must protect and develop its human resources, safeguarding all citizens against economic insecurity. He said: "We should now extend unemployment compensation, old age benefits, and survivors' benefits to millions who are not now protected. We should also raise the level of benefits."

Standard of Living—The president said the nation can increase its annual output by at least one-third in the next decade and lift its standard of living to nearly double what it was 10 years ago. He said: "To do this, agriculture, business, and labor must move forward together."

"We need to continue price supports for major farm commodities... crop insurance should be strengthened... we need to go forward with the rural electrification program."

"Another basic element of a strong economic system is the well-being of wage earners... I recommend lifting the minimum wage to seventy-five cents an hour."

Civil Rights—The president said all citizens, in the United States and its territories, must be assured equal opportunity for education, for jobs and economic advancement and for the expression of their views at the polls. He said: "Because of the need for effective federal action, I shall send a special message to the congress on this important subject."

"I believe that the time has come for Alaska and Hawaii to be admitted to the union as states."

Confucius, Chinese sage, was named K'ung, and the word Confucius is a Latinized form of a Chinese expression meaning "the philosopher or master K'ung."

SIX MAJOR GOALS ARE PRESENTED IN TRUMAN'S ADDRESS

of us all." This was an indirect blast at Russia, the "Godless State."

Again, without mentioning Russia by name, Mr. Truman declared that "unfortunately, not all governments share the hope" of America that the world can recover economically "by cooperative effort among nations."

Twice, Mr. Truman seemed to be answering his major critic—Henry Agard Wallace. Once was when he declared forcefully for the preservation of the "human rights of all our citizens." The second time came when he pledged his administration to world peace. Wallace has been charging the president with abandoning human rights and with leading the nation to war.

Six Goals Outlined

The six goals which the President asked Congress to help his administration achieve were:

1. "To secure fully the essential human rights of our citizens."
 2. "To protect and develop our human resources."
 3. "To conserve and use our natural resources so that they can contribute most effectively to the welfare of our people."
 4. "To lift the standard of living for all our people by strengthening our economic system and sharing more broadly among our people the goods we produce."
 5. "To achieve world peace based on principles of freedom and justice and the equality of all nations."
 6. "To deal effectively and at once with the high cost of living and 'stop the spiral of inflation'."
- The president said that the sixth goal—to deal effectively with the high cost of living and inflation—is a "major problem which affects all our goals."
- To achieve the first of his goals, the president said all citizens, regardless of race, creed or color, must be given equal opportunity for education, jobs, at the polls and in the courts of the land.
- He said he will send a special message to Congress asking "effective" legislation to guarantee these civil rights to all.

Pre-arrangement Is An Accepted Idea

Advance-arrangements for funeral service is an accepted idea today. One reason is that it relieves the family of a burden during a time when they are least able to bear it.

It is much better that the head of the family should include arrangements for funeral service in insurance and other estate plans. It is a certain way of knowing that cost will be kept within the family means.

Boyd Funeral Service invites advance arrangements. We have many in our safe. Each will be fulfilled exactly as it was planned when the need arises.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The apparent determination of France to pursue a middle-of-the-road policy as long as possible was reflected in the parliamentary victories scored by Premier Robert Schuman.

By narrow margins, the French national assembly adopted a series of rigorous new tax measures designed to curb inflation. Schuman, a respected and capable financier, staked the life of his government on these bills. He regarded their passage as essential to the economic life of the country, maintaining that the upward spiral of prices would ruin the nation unless curbed.

Significant Action

The votes of confidence given him were particularly significant in view of Gen. Charles De Gaulle's most recent bid for power in speech at St. Etienne, where he claimed that only by stringent repression of strikes and unionism can France be saved.

It is apparent that up to the moment De Gaulle has neither gained nor lost in his patient efforts to win France to his cause. Much depends for the present upon popular reaction to the Schuman measures.

The new taxes will be felt severely and if they fail in their purpose of halting inflation the premier can hope for little sympathy from a population that has known little success from dire financial distress for the best part of a decade.

France Focal Point

In framing his measures and placing his five-month-old cabinet at the mercy of the assembly, Schuman was entirely conscious of the fact that France is again the focal point of world interest.

It is taken for granted that success or failure of the Marshall plan hinges to a large degree upon France.

Despite war losses, food shortages and a slow postwar recovery, the French republic remains the bellwether of western continental Europe.

It is for this reason that Communist activity has been so pronounced there and will be renewed in full strength should the Schuman regime founder on the rocks of public resentment.

But by the same token, the Communist program for Europe can be set back for an untold period if the Schuman laws have been soundly framed and are administered in a manner that will satisfy the public.

Except for the black market operators and a handful of opportunistic profiteers, the French people as a whole are determined to find a way out of their present difficulties and avail themselves to the fullest and with honor of the advantages inherent in the Marshall plan.

But they want an end put to the vicious cycle of low wages and soaring costs. The government that can do this seems assured of some permanence at least.

Report Plan Worth Trying

There has been much written and spoken during the past few months about the problems of inflation, Communism, employment and wages, taxation, and many others.

While much has been said, there have been practically no concrete suggestions as to how these problems might be met, except one that has been developing in Sharon.

The Herald has watch with a great deal of interest, the developments of the suggestion, first made by Chauncey E. Brockway, president of the First National Bank, several years ago, that the money invested in a company be paid a regular wage along with the men employed. He calls it "placing equity capital on the payroll."

He has suggested that if his idea would be embodied in our laws, it would automatically eliminate the corporate income tax that is paid eventually by the lowest income groups, with the largest families, and that the cost of living would be reduced.

While Mr. Brockway has spoken before local groups several times, he has been called upon many times during past months to speak from Chicago to New York. He has not publicized these engagements, but has been meeting quietly with many top industrialists, who have both commended and criticized the plan. When criticism has been advanced, Mr. Brockway has proceeded to find an answer to it.

Early in December he was asked to present his ideas to the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives at Washington. After presenting his prepared statement, members of the committee asked questions. Press association stories sent out at that time have attracted national attention to the plan of placing equity capital on the payroll, and following that by having the corporation guarantee a definite amount of employment. This latter is essential to the plan, as corporations adopting the plan will not pay any corporate income tax if Congress should pass the necessary legislation.

Since Mr. Brockway's appearance before the House Ways and Means committee he has been requested to submit in concrete form his ideas of what kind of legislation should be adopted. In order to give corporations, which might desire to adopt the plan, the opportunity to do so. It is probable that the necessary bill will be introduced into Congress early in the new session.

In discussing this with him, he has told us that the suggestions, if adopted, would permit any corporation, in cooperation with the employees, to try it, thereby permitting it to demonstrate whether or not it has practical value.

Here a plan that may be adopted, voluntarily, by a corporation and its employees. It holds many possibilities. If the plan will help to solve only one of the many problems confronting our country today, we believe that Congress ought to pass the necessary legislation.

It is just as well that we make no New Year's resolutions at all, because a resolution left unmade is better in the long run than a broken resolution.

However, may I, at this season of the year, make a few suggestions that I think will help you better to get along until next Christmas?

First of all, pay no attention to all those prophecies of doom that tell you that the world is going to the dogs.

I predict there won't be any war with Russia during 1948. I further predict that you will have three square meals a day and enough clothes to wear to keep you warm in winter and cool in summer.

So don't take all that stuff too seriously and keep on attending to your own business.

Don't wear yourself out trying to do things that you aren't equipped to do or to be somebody you aren't cut out to be.

Too many people spend the best part of their lives making a failure of success. In the few years that are left in trying to make a success out of their failure.

Just be yourself, know your speed and don't exceed your speed limit.

This year being a political year, you are likely to get all steamed up about politics.

It doesn't make much difference whether we have Republicans or Democrats in Washington.

I haven't seen much difference in either breed.

Politicians are human beings, too, and so they have all the virtues and vices of other human beings.

Vote for whoever you think is best—and don't expect too much. You won't get it anyhow.

RED EYES ON CHINA

Possibilities in China make the issues in Europe seem simple, and dwarf the mess that is Palestine. This ageless land of 450,000,000 people, which has been termed the battleground of World War III, is riddled by confusion, dissension, war, inflation, and unconscionable conniving. Across the border Russia watches and waits.

General Marshall once went to China as the President's special envoy and spent a year trying to end civil war. He failed because communists were interested only in setting up a Moscow-dominated government. He came home and dismissed China in a release that sounded like so much double-talk.

Now some China experts, including General Wedemeyer, say this country must send her economic and military aid right away. General Wedemeyer, chief of the Army General Staff's Operations and Planning Division, advocates assistance to Chiang Kai-shek.

He defends Chiang as a "benevolent despot," not a dictator, points out that he remained loyal to the U. S. despite attractive peace offers from the Japanese, and adds that "all his life he has opposed communism."

As a matter of fact, until he started an anti-communist campaign in 1927 Chiang had spent years under the communist domination of Michael Borodin, unofficial agent of the Soviet government. But if this country is compelled to aid China, who else is there to send the aid to?

What is overlooked in most discussions of China is the fact that the Chinese obviously are incapable of maintaining a government that does not contain archaic forms. Were a real republic to be set up in China, it wouldn't have a chance.

END OF A GOLDEN AGE

There are increasing reports from the froth front that the golden age of the American night club is beginning to tarnish. The situation is reported to be so bad that those who know about such things believe 50 per cent of the nation's night clubs may go out of business in the next six months.

Business has been falling off since early 1946 in most night spots in New York, Washington and elsewhere. And those operators who hoped that the recent holiday season would wind up the year with a fine profitable bang, were disappointed.

The rich, lush nights seem to be over. Triple charges on $5 or $6 beverages, $5 cover charges, and the high-level chiseling of cigarette girls, club photographers, teddy bear and doll salesgirls, flower and candy purveyors are losing their lure.

Very few authorities would pretend that the great American entertainment seeker has seen the light, or anything like that. They think he has just run out of easy money. If that really is the case, other lines of business that have been living off the cream, charging high prices and giving as little as possible in return, may soon feel the pinch.

THEIR NECKS ARE OUT

Thirteen economists associated with the National Industrial Conference Board have predicted that production and cost of living will both increase in 1948. That is a remarkable prediction.

People are not compelled to believe it, though. Before 1929, most economists were happily predicting permanent prosperity. After the crash most of them kept anticipating a round-the-corner prosperity that never came. And after World War II a great many economists predicted a 1946-47 recession which failed to materialize. Economists are not infallible prophets.

Perhaps they are unfortunate in that when people believe their predictions, they hedge against them and prevent their coming true. It does seem to be a fact that the economists' predictions which most often come true are those that nobody believes at the time.

What is startling about this latest prediction is that it seems to flout accepted theories of supply and demand. Higher production, by increasing supply, is supposed to make prices go down. But in 1948, say the NICB economists, that will not happen. Production will set new records, and living costs will go up, too!

An increase in demand, if it were big enough to override the increase in supply, conceivably could do the trick. But postwar demand—at least at present prices—seems to have passed its peak. Greater foreign spending could increase over-all demand, but these economists say that net American investments abroad will be no greater than they were in 1947.

But there is one thing about economists that it is easy to admire. No matter how sour their predictions may prove, they are right back at the old stand the next day, sticking their necks out again.

Some jury verdicts suggest that the quality of mercy is not merely strained, but fractured.

Russia is waiting for the United States to go busted, apparently oblivious to the danger of starving to death in the meantime.

Washington Calling

Wallace's Move Blow To Truman

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — The force of the blow that Henry Wallace has dealt to President Truman's chances for reelection will become increasingly evident as time goes by. It may well be a mortal blow.

That is why the old guard of the Republican party is so overjoyed. They are getting the feeling that they can sit tight and win without making any concessions to the independent voter. They feel that the prize will at long last fall to them no matter who the candidate or what the platform.

Wallace's Move Dismissive
This is the profound dismissive that Wallace has done to his country at a moment when the whole world is watching to see what America's course will be. He has done his best to make sure that there will be no real contest in the fall.

It is not that he wasn't warned, and well in advance, of the effect of a third-party move in 1948. A little behind-scenes history is revealing of Wallace's determination to go through with the gesture even though, like Samson, he might pull down the pillars of the very structure he professed to defend.

Several months ago a prominent New Deal Democrat was approached by Wallace and his followers with an interesting offer. They wanted this man, who has real grassroots connections and influence, to become Wallace's political manager. What is more, they offered him a salary so large that at first he did not believe he had heard correctly.

Offer Refused
In the discussion it became clear that Wallace intended to go through with the third-party bid. The offer was refused by the New Dealer who phrased his refusal more or less as follows:

"If you go through with this, you will make reaction more or less inevitable. And in the process you will destroy yourself. 'I am going to stay in the Democratic party and I am going to support Truman in 1948. I strongly urge you to do the same. In that way you will be able to influence the policies of the administration and the nature of the campaign.'"

"Then if you still feel after the election that the President has let you down, you will have two courses ahead of you. You can start a third party with a clear conscience that you have paid a debt of loyalty. Or you can work for a liberalization of the Democratic party and for your own nomination in 1952."

Didn't Care For Advice
Wallace did not care for this advice. It went against the decision that had been taking shape in his mind. That decision has been constantly seconded by a little group of Communists and ardent fellow-travelers who see in Wallace, with his cloudy idealism and his ready emotionalism, a heaven-sent opportunity.

Throughout his career this has been Wallace's chief weakness. He has let himself be guided by some very curious people. That was true even when he was vice president. In his character is a kind of passivity. This makes him willing to follow those who are aggressively sure of the direction in which they want to go and who say so in loud, determined voices.

Not So Much A Politician
Wallace is not so much a politician as a scientist and philosopher. His contribution to science is not small. That is perhaps why, when he forces himself to become a stump orator, as he did in announcing his candidacy, the result is painful demagoguery.

It was significant that at least some of Wallace's friends wanted to hire a manager with practical political knowledge. There is no one who comes close to that description in his camp today.

Today Wallace is the captive of nimble-minded men who know the exact measure of his usefulness to them. During the past month he has been deborted by many former camp-followers who came to a sudden realization of where the road was leading. They declined to follow their one-time hero to that dead end.

This is not intended to minimize Wallace's influence. I think that influence is considerable. In a following column I want to analyze why that should be so.

A realist long familiar with the failures and successes of the Democratic party put it this way: "We Democrats cannot win without the lunatic fringe, and Wallace will take it with him." In that statement there is an element of brutal truth. But it is more than that. It is the appeal of a man who seems to voice the hopes and fears of many people who are troubled and confused.

See Marshall As Key Figure

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Secretary of State Marshall, the most unpolitical politician in Washington, may turn out to be a key figure in the coming presidential election. His doings and sayings over the next few months can vitally affect the chances of two leading candidates, President Truman and General Eisenhower.

One hears, for instance, that Mr. Marshall may not be a permanent fixture in the Truman cabinet. He will stay, it is said, as long as he can effectively serve his country. But he will not stay if asked to serve anything else, particularly White House society or the Democratic party. This is a little embarrassing on all sides when Democratic pilgrims from the hinterland call on Mr. Truman and ask for the honor of shaking hands with the celebrated Secretary of State. Other cabinet ministers are expected to perform these little courtesies at presidential request. Mr. Marshall is aloof.

Using Terms "Marshall Plan"

Then there is the matter of using the term "Marshall Plan" to designate the Administration foreign policy. Democratic politicians have been pinning these magic words to their campaign banners. Marshall's name has an enormous prestige throughout the country, and it is easy to spread the idea that a vote for Truman is a vote for Marshall. Mr. Marshall has shown signs of objecting to this. The Republicans also object, although for different reasons. Thus the Marshall plan is now generally referred to as the European Recovery program or ERP.

But withdrawal of Mr. Marshall's name from Democratic campaign language is as nothing compared with the possibility of Mr. Marshall's withdrawal from the cabinet. This need not, and probably will not, happen during the campaign. But will Mr. Marshall continue in his post during the President's second term, if any? A lot of votes could swing on that point. Foreign policy and the conduct thereof are Mr. Truman's long suit. He has already had three Secretaries of State. The changes from Stettinius to Byrnes to Marshall were all favorably received. But this is an election year and Mr. Truman may acquire political debts to discharge. Anything that Secretary Marshall does or says about his continuance in office could make a big difference in Democratic chances.

Not Pleased With Ike

And Mr. Marshall also has a strong eye-or-ear in the political hopes of General Eisenhower. Those close to the Secretary occasionally let it be known that he is not pleased with Ike at the moment. You can hear around the Pentagon Building that Eisenhower will never be known as a conscientious chief of staff. He avoids work that can be done by his successors. He puts off decisions that may be politically embarrassing. Specifically, it is felt that Eisenhower did not go to bat for the Army Department on the bill for universal military service. The Pentagon brass hats feel that the chief of staff could have done more than he did for the bill and more than he will do. The general feeling is that Eisenhower is warming up for his innings at Columbia University or the Republican Convention. The old war horses at the Pentagon especially dislike the former Supreme Commander's chummy "Just call me Ike" attitude. They think that sort of thing can wait until he doffs his uniform.

Shares This Disapproval

Secretary Marshall is said to share this disapproval. Eisenhower, a colonel when the war opened, is a Marshall protégé. Without Marshall it is unlikely that Ike would ever have been Supreme Commander, a five star general, a chief of staff or a presidential possibility. Mr. Marshall's feelings, as expressed by persons who claim to know, are: "I made Ike what he is today and he's letting me down." That isn't all. Mr. Marshall is supposed to have strong objections to a military man's laying siege to the White House. He himself renounced such ambitions at a time when his chances were probably better than Ike's ever will be. What if Mr. Marshall decided to philosophize on the moral right of a professional soldier to campaign against his Commander in Chief? Such a statement by Mr. Marshall might be the last event of the Eisenhower boom.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

ONCE IN A WHILE
I think, looking back, I have done as I should Once in a while, I have done I'd say of myself, I have done what I could Once in a while, I've stopped on my way just to visit a friend;
A few flowers I've even remembered to send,
And letters I might have put off, I have penned
Once in a while.
I've learned what it meant to have friends standing by
Once in a while.
I've mastered the thought that too busy was I
Once in a while.
I know what such thoughtfulness means to the old;
How laughter rewards every jest that is told,
For I've tried them, but only (the truth to unfold)
Once in a while.
But it isn't enough merely helpful to be
Once in a while;
To share in the need that so plainly I see
Once in a while.
And I'd like to be known as the sort of a man
Who graciously, willingly does all he can
To hearten his fellows much oftener than
Once in a while.

Highways Death Toll For 1947 At Low Point

Lowest Number Of Fatal Deaths On Highways Of State Since 1943-45

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The death toll on Pennsylvania highways in 1947 dropped to the lowest point of any peacetime year on record, it was reported today by state police headquarters.

Rural highway fatalities totaled 871 during the year, compared to 993 in 1946 and 1,514 in 1937, the worst year on the books.

The 1947 record represented a 12 per cent reduction and was bettered only by the 1943-45 war years when highway travel was at a minimum, according to State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm.

Very Gratifying
"This saving of lives is gratifying because it shows what can be done," he declared. "However, as we go into the new year we cannot afford to take time out to congratulate ourselves on what was done last year."

"We must realize that hundreds of people will lose their lives during the next 12 months and that this needless slaughter can be reduced only by continued effort."

Six hundred and twenty-eight persons were killed on rural roads in 1943, Wilhelm said, compared with 632 in 1944 and 725 in 1945.

Fathers Advised To Act Like Fathers

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—(INS)—A group of Chicago fathers were advised yesterday by an authority on family life to act like fathers, not like a "pal" toward their children.

Dr. L. A. Kirkendall, director of the Association for Family Living, told them:

"Don't try to be the life of the party when your children are with their friends. Don't look for the same kind of companionship your children receive from friends their own ages, and don't try to get it."

"Children like it better, and families get along better, experience shows, if the father is a father."

Dr. Kirkendall has a 7-year-old daughter and a 4-year-old son. The director said the father should set an example for his son of the kind of man he would like him to be.

He said the father should strike to be a model man so that his daughter would have respect for character in men.

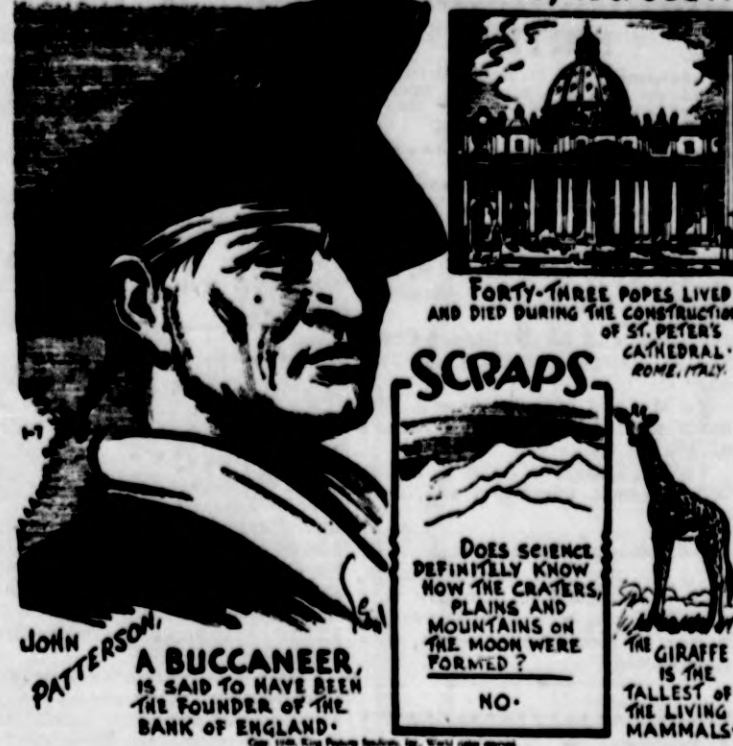

WHOLESALE PRICES UP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Labor Department reported that wholesale prices for 900 commodities rose three-tenths of one per cent during the week ended last Saturday. This set a new post-war high for the wholesale index.

The department said that the index was 64 per cent above the 1926 average, 2 per cent above a month ago and 16.8 per cent higher than a year ago. It said the index was 2.5 per cent below the peak reached in May, 1920, following the first world war.

Police Chief Urges Caution In Travel Over Icy Streets

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna issued a warning to all motorists today to exercise extreme caution when driving on ice covered streets. "If you have to use a car in this weather, for your safety as well as others, be extra careful," the chief added.

"Ice is the most dangerous and treacherous road surface there is, and only constant vigilance on the part of the driver and use of proper equipment will prevent accidents and tieup traffic," he said. According to recent tests by the National Safety Council's Committee on winter driving hazards, a vehicle traveling only 20 mph on ice without tire chains may skid about 200 feet after brakes are applied. Equipped with tire chains on rear wheels and going the same speed, it can stop in about 80 feet.

"So, if you must drive on ice, have tire chains ready and use them," Chief Hanna cautioned.

Further precautions were also listed by the chief. They are: Be alert and drive at lower speeds; maintain maximum distance between your car and other vehicles; signal well before you stop or turn; and be especially careful on crowned road surfaces, bridges or when going around curves.

"When you have to stop on ice, apply your brakes lightly and intermittently," the chief advised. "Jamming on brakes in usual manner will lock them and may throw your car into a dangerous skid."

Johnstown Passing Payroll Tax Levy

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 7.—(INS)—An ordinance imposing a one per cent tax on all earnings of Johnstown residents was passed unanimously by city council on first reading Tuesday, and will be ready for final passage Feb. 3.

The earnings tax plan would impose the one per cent levy on all salaries, commissions and net profits of businesses and professions. It is similar to the earned income tax ordinance now in operation in Philadelphia.

City officials said the measure, expected to become effective March 5, will raise approximately $600,000 a year.

Council passed the tax measure over vigorous protests of a delegation from the CIO United Steelworkers.

FOWL GOOD BUY FOR FAMILY MEAT SUPPLY

Fowl is a thrifty buy at any time but right now is among the lowest priced chickens offered on the markets. Fowl, one of the major types of market birds, refers to chickens that were used for layers, but have reached a certain stage when they are worth more for meat than for egg production, according to poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college.

Young fowls are hens that are tender enough to be roasted although they are generally stewed or fricasseed; also may be canned or frozen for future use. A fowl of five or six pounds will provide meat enough for a good sized family with leftovers for later meals.

Because fowl is less tender than other types of chicken, it requires moisture and long, slow cooking to make it tender. Stewing or fricasseeing gives the best results.

To stew, cover the cut up bird with hot water, season with salt and pepper, bring to a boil, cover the kettle, then lower the heat to keep the bird simmering. Cook until tender. The average cooking time is two and a half to three hours.

If a pressure saucepan is used, the cooking time may be cut 30 to 45 minutes. For fricasseeing, brown the pieces of chicken before simmering and use less water in cooking.

Stewed or fricasseed fowl can be used for creamed chicken, salad, loaves, pies or casserole dishes. The broth makes delicious soups, gravies and sauces.

When the cooked chicken is to be kept a while before serving, it is very important to cool the chicken and broth and put it in the refrigerator as soon as possible.

Place the meat on a plate and when cool cover with waxed paper and put it in the refrigerator. The pan of broth may be set in cold water to hasten the cooling. If a very moist chicken is desired, put the meat back into the broth before refrigerating.

Hood College Coed Is Being Hunted

Thirteen State Alarm Sent Out For Girl By Maryland State Police

BALTIMORE, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Maryland State Police reported today that a 13-state alarm has been sent out for a 18-year-old Hood College coed who has been missing for about 12 hours.

Police identified the girl as Ann Lorenzo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lorenzo, Newton, N. J., who was a freshman at the Frederick, Md. college.

According to police, the coed spent the Christmas holiday with her parents and then boarded a train in Newark Monday to return to school. She was scheduled to arrive at the college Monday night, but did not check in until late yesterday.

College officials reported that they discovered Miss Lorenzo was missing when a mysterious telephone call for her was received last night.

When they sought to locate the girl to answer the call, the college authorities discovered that she was not at the school. Her baggage and clothing also were reported to be missing.

Miss Lorenzo was described as being five feet, three inches tall, weighing about 122 pounds, and having dark brown eyes. She is believed to be wearing a red dress and a white coat.

Steel Output In 1947 Sets Record Above War Years

Announcement Of Steel Records For Past Year Are Made, Show Great Boost

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Steel records set in the rush-order days of the war were smashed in three plants of United States Steel Corp. during 1947, the firm announced today after completing reports of the past year's production.

At the Homestead works of Carnegie-Illinois Steel, 3,988,390 tons of steel ingots were produced during the year, breaking the all-time record of 3,866,240 tons set in 1944. In the same mill, the No. 8 open hearth shop produced 1,604,707 tons, 183,000 tons more than the 1945 record. The 45-inch slabbing mill produced 1,692,267 tons of slabs to break the 1945 record by nearly 400,000 tons, and the 160-inch plate mill produced 472,827 tons, 53,000 more than the 1945 mark.

Records Bettered
At the Irvin works, the 80-inch continuous hot strip mill turned out 1,774,832 tons, compared with 1,434,000 tons in 1944.

The National works of National Tube Co. at McKeesport bettered its 1941 record of 892,116 tons at the open hearth shop by 600 tons, and the No. 1 seamless pipe mill produced 253,750 tons of pipe, 25,000 tons more than in 1944. The McKeesport plant also set two monthly records in December. It produced 109,269 tons of open hearth and Bessemer steel ingots, compared with a record of 104,967 tons last October. The blooming mill put out 86,395 tons of steel blooms, 2,000 tons more than in October, 1946.

REDUCING IMPORTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Canadian government has notified the United States that it is reducing voluntarily its imports of scarce kerosene and fuel oil.

The Commerce Department said it was advised by the Canadian embassy here that Canada's imports during January would be cut 50 per cent or less from the monthly average reached during the first quarter of 1947.

Shipments, it said, will not exceed 6000 barrels daily.

Col. Henry T. Myers Wants To Return To Airline Piloting, Williams Successor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The air force disclosed Tuesday that Lt. Col. Henry T. Myers, President Truman's personal pilot, has applied for retirement from active duty to return to civilian life. It was announced that Lt. Col. Francis W. Williams, a veteran of 10,500 hours flying time, will succeed Myers as pilot of the presidential planes, "The Sacred Cow", and "Independence".

Myers, a reserve officer, has piloted the presidential planes since July, 1943. In his request for relief from active duty, Myers said he wanted to return to his civilian post as an airline pilot.

Williams has been flying for 16 years. He was chief pilot of an air transport command division during the war, and has eight years of commercial airline experience in addition to his air force service.

The new presidential pilot lives in Arlington Forest, Va. He was born in Alameda, Calif., in 1906.

Gorgeous French Girl Will Marry Columbus Manager

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Miss Paris of 1947, who forsook 50,000,000 Frenchmen for a Columbus, O., credit manager, thinks Americans have "more character" than the men of her native France.

That, explained gorgeous Kay Trevil, 24, is the reason she fell in love with Ray Mack, 30, whom she plans to marry in Columbus next week.

Miss Trevil arrived in New York yesterday on the Holland-America motorship, Westerdam and held a joyful reunion with Mack as she walked ashore.

Asked if her estimate of American character was based on Mack alone, Miss Trevil said:

"No — the whole American army."

her class. She was an honor student all through high school. She is eager for an education but her father doesn't believe in education, so she can't expect any help. "She wants to be a nurse. Can have a scholarship but hasn't any money. She has always been a healthy girl with lots of determination. She can borrow the money. Would you advise it?" He must be one of those totalitarian fathers who holds the family purse.

She should borrow the money and go on, by all means, I replied. Parental Vision
We only need to observe the large number of preachers' children, who go to college or enter the professions to see what a difference parental vision, values and ambition mean. Then consider how few preachers have an income comparable to that of many of the farmers in their parishes. Unfortunately, however, when bright boys and girls of the farm go on into higher education they may never come back to the farm, though more are doing so now than a decade ago; and more will as colleges and professional and vocational schools do a better job at setting values and when all other means of education likewise does.

Many years ago, a certain farmer had a smart idea. He was talking to the dean of his state college. "I want my son to come here to college."

"What is he doing?"
"Driving mules in a logging camp."
"What does he want to do after finishing college?"
"Go back and drive mules."
"Then why have him come to college at all?"
"I'd like him to be as different from the mules as possible."

LADIES FIRST
"On what occasions are 'ladies first'?" When, if ever, are they preceded by men? I'm always a little dubious about this when out with the fair sex."

Answer: There are very few exceptions to the "ladies first" rule and they result from circumstances requiring man's precedence in order to further the protection of his "charge." For instance: A woman precedes a man ascending and descending stairs, except when it is dark or the stairway is dangerous, in which case, he precedes to guard her against tripping. In entering a restaurant, the woman precedes when there is an attendant to take them to a table; otherwise, the man, in order to locate a table, goes first—directly followed by her. The woman goes first when leaving the restaurant. The same rule applies in entering and leaving a theater. If there is an usher present, the woman follows him to their seats; otherwise she follows her escort.

A woman should be permitted to go first through all doors—her escort holding them open for her. She should enter a street car followed by the man; but he should alight first that he may assist her while she steps off. I think this covers the "ladies first" situation.

Question: I have been invited to attend a bridal shower given in honor of a girl in my sorority. I have never met the shower hostesses. Must I send my regrets—and a gift, too?

Answer: By all means, send your regrets if you cannot attend. To ignore the invitation would be rude, indeed, as the hostess will

APARTMENTS AND HOMES
Over crowding mostly causes insanitary conditions. It is pretty hard to keep apartment houses in good shape.

There is usually one tenant who spoils the whole place.

All the other tenants may be clean and tidy. One can be bad enough to make all bad.

Roaches and bugs seem to like apartments. They flourish in them. No matter how careful the housewife is, they keep coming.

D D T and some other preparations help to do away with roaches and bugs.

A single family house may be made bug proof and rat proof but the pests are just around the corner.

Vermin are notorious carriers of disease but even if they were healthy we do not want them.

Official Salaries Listed For 1948

Some Officers Cannot Get Benefit Of Increases Provided By General Assembly

In the 1947 session of the General Assembly, a salary increase bill was passed which affects some Lawrence county officers but which does not affect others because they are in the middle of their terms.

Recently there has been a request to The News to publish the salaries of city and county officials here and they are found below.

Judges, $12,000 per year. This salary is paid by the state. It formerly was $10,000 per year but under the law judges are the only officers permitted to get the raise while they are in office.

Sheriff, $4,000 per year, plus residence, utility services, heat, and automobile. If the sheriff had been elected last November his salary would be $4,400.

Register and recorder, $3,500 per year with fees approximately that much. This salary also would be $4,400 if the register and recorder had been elected last November.

County treasurer, $4,400 per year, plus $880 fees from the state.

Prothonotary and clerk of courts, $4,400 per year.

District attorney, $3,800 per year.

County commissioners, $3,300 per year.

County controller, $3,300 per year.

Jury commissioners, $6 per day.

Coroner, no salary, only fees.

Mayor, $4,400 per year.

City councilmen, $3,500 per year.

City treasurer, $250 per year as treasurer and $450 as tax collector.

City controller, $350 per year.

Such offices as deputy to the various elected officials, jail matron, assistant district attorney, county detective and various chief clerks are appointive offices and the salary is determined either by city council, or by the county salary board.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

been strong in his support of the Marshall Plan. He has emphasized that Americans cannot expect a reduction in taxes if we are to make the scheduled financial contributions.

But he has consistently opposed any cut in the federal budget for domestic purposes. He makes no move to reduce the army of federal employees whose maintenance runs into six billion dollars a year.

Could Cut Budget
Senator Byrd asserts that the federal budget could have been cut five to six million dollars for the fiscal year which began last July if the President and his advisers had co-operated with Congress to that end. But Mr. Truman apparently wants to eat his cake and have it too. He wants to donate the billions required for the Marshall Plan and at the same time keep up the New Deal standard of spending at home.

On the same day that Senator Byrd made his challenge, Chairman Taber, of the House Appropriation Committee, revealed that the executive proposes to submit a forty billion dollar budget to the next session of Congress. This budget presumably may include the six billions estimated as necessary for the Marshall Plan. If so, Congress should see that executive outlays are pared to an equal amount, as Senator Byrd suggests.

American taxpayers cannot carry Europe on their shoulders and at the same time endure a domestic budget equal to those of war times.

Would Gratify Reds
It has been previously noted here that the one thing most gratifying to Communist Russia would be a collapse of our national economy due to high taxes and extreme living costs—both of which conceivably could be involved in an effort to overdo our contributions to Europe. Soviet strategists for some time have been waiting for the "bust" expected to follow our boom. Thus far, fortunately, they have been disappointed. Senator Byrd probably had this in mind when he said:

"Fiscal stability in the United States would serve the enemies of the United States far more than any weapon that could be devised. By the same token, our financial soundness is the only hope for those who seek our help. Without it there would be no bulwark against Communism, and freedom could not survive here or elsewhere."

Senator Byrd has offered a test of our good sense as well as our sincerity. The ordinary family which sets out to give large-scale aid to distressed relatives finds out that it must make up, for its outlays by a cut in its own expenses. The same thing ought to hold good in the case of a government shouldering the relief of other nations.

State Police Say:
The drunken driver is a potential murderer on the highways. The public is highly incensed when they hear a drunk running amok and shooting people with a gun, but they seldom stop to realize that a driver under the influence of liquor can and does cause greater damage to life and property. Instead of setting into motion a bullet which may take life, he sets in motion a bullet which may take life as quickly as a bullet. Do your part as a citizen by calling State Police when you see a drunken driver or pedestrian.

Rats are sometimes killed by piping motor exhaust gases into their burrows.

Vocal And Instrumental Work
In New York, New Jersey

One of New Castle's talented vocalists and musicians, Roland G. Crisci, of 1023 North Croton avenue, a junior student at the Westminster Choir college, Princeton, N. J., is making splendid progress in music circles, it is learned here.

Mr. Crisci's most recent honor came Sunday afternoon when he was privileged to sing with the Westminster Voice choir in a program with the well known New York Philharmonic Symphony society in a concert presented in famed Carnegie Music hall. Directing the concert was Charles Munch, outstanding composer and director with John Finley Williamson directing the Westminster choir.

The outstanding program was heard coast to coast over a national network, and was the four thousand five hundred forty third concert of the Symphony society.

Mr. Crisci is also very active in church work, spending his week ends at the First Presbyterian church of Woodbridge, N. J., where he not only plays the organ for Sunday services but directs three separate choirs. His holiday vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Crisci, of North Croton avenue was cut short due to his numerous commitments in New York and New Jersey.

Most of the 260 square miles in the United States devoted to growing English walnuts is in California and Oregon.

Today Your Pharmacist Drags A Few Facts About...

TRYPAFLAVINE

The drug's no good, insisted the German Ehrlich, because it will not kill trypanosomes, the parasites that cause sleeping sickness. But Carl Browning, a Scotsman, refused to accept Ehrlich's dictum and by repeated tests found that trypaflavine would kill bacteria and used it successfully on wounded soldiers.

How Far Will The Family Dollar Stretch This Year?

How far will the family dollar stretch this year? That is the big question for 1948. It is worrying Congress, merchants, banks and professional people, and all the rest of us who have to pay today's high prices. If the amount of Christmas buying done on credit in New Castle is any indication of future trends, a lot of families are planning to use credit this year to help close the gap between cash-on-hand and family needs.

The practice of buying on credit has been condemned by some as an inflationary factor, but according to A. J. Genkinger, manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange, credit granters are doing everything in their power to keep the credit situation in hand.

"The best credit control that can be enacted," said Genkinger, "is one enforced by the customer himself." He points out that ninety-five per cent of the people pay their bills regularly, although not exactly as agreed in every case.

According to Genkinger, credit granters are using the service of the credit exchange to a greater extent than ever before. This checkup on credit extension is not prompted by a desire to snoop. It is recognized that customers who are overloaded with credit are likely to have trouble in paying.

For that reason a checkup on credit is a safeguard against unwise buying beyond ability to pay. The wise use of credit helps the intelligent family obtain the purchases they want now and pay for them on a time basis. In this way credit can help stretch the 1948 family dollar by stretching payment over a period of time. The only requirement is that the customer buy wisely and meet payments as agreed.

Soon the story of how you are meeting your Christmas bills will be added to the Exchange files. For that reason, and in the interest of establishing a sound business basis for this area, Genkinger suggests "Keep your credit good" as a number one New Year's resolution.

Pomona Grange To Install Officers

First Lawrence County Pomona grange meeting of the year will take place Saturday, January 10, with Mahoning Valley grange as host.

The morning session will open at 10:30 o'clock, and the afternoon assembly will begin at 1:30 o'clock. Women of the host grange will serve the noon meal.

Installation of new Pomona officers will be conducted by David Kyle, one of the oldest active grangers in the state. Glenn Patterson, of East Brook grange, will be the master of Lawrence County Pomona for the next two years.

Mr. Patterson, a prominent farmer of Hickory township, is active in school, church and community affairs as well as in grange work.

All of the other new county officers, who will be installed by Mr. Kyle, are active grange members, insuring a profitable and interesting period ahead for Pomona grangers. Mahoning Valley grange, under direction of Anna Miller, will present a special feature at the opening of the afternoon assembly.

Make Report On Mahoning Jail

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 7.—(INS)—Mahoning County commissioners today made public a report by Harold A. Cox, United States bureau of prison inspector, in which Cox said lack of supervision at Mahoning County jail was partly responsible for two jail breaks last fall.

Cox and Robert D. Barnes, senior architect of the bureau, inspected the jail last November.

The report also rapped unsanitary conditions and accumulated trash in the cells. Barnes recommended establishment of a work camp on the county, an entirely new system of plumbing and wiring in the jail and renewal of all present cell equipment which is rusted and has deteriorated.

Sheriff Ralph E. Elser said he was doing the best he could with the funds. "If a prisoner doesn't want to take a bath, there is nothing we can do about it," he said.

Resume Story Hour At Public Library

The story hour for children at the junior department of the New Castle Free Public Library will resume on Thursday afternoon following the holiday period.

Mrs. McKee has been well pleased at the attendance of the story hours. Approximately 70 youngsters hear the stories at both story hours.

HIGHWAYS MADE SAFE BY CINDERING CREWS

For the third time in as many days, state highway department cinderling crews were called into action to ash glossy highways so as to aid in the prevention of serious action. The men were called out early this morning, and worked several hours before everything was pronounced "under control".

Alfred Martin, superintendent of the Lawrence County department, stated today that ice on the roads had frozen solid last night and that light snow which fell early today, necessitated in the calling out of the road crews.

Lamarre Enters Plea Of Guilty

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Bieriot H. Lamarre, "dummy" president of Maj. Gen. Bennett Meyers' Ohio war plant, pleaded guilty Tuesday to charges that he lied to congress about Meyers' war-time financial deals.

Sentencing of the blond, 35-year-old gas station attendant was deferred by U. S. District Judge David A. Pine pending a report by the court's probation officer.

Lamarre faces a possible term of 30 years in prison under the three-count perjury indictment upon which he was arraigned today. But, his sentence is expected to be much lighter.

Lamarre and Meyers, former deputy chief of air forces purchasing, were both indicted Dec. 19 by a federal grand jury as a result of a sensational probe by the senate war investigating committee.

Meyers, who is under indictment on three perjury counts and three counts of inducing Lamarre to commit perjury, is scheduled to be arraigned tomorrow.

Lamarre, husband of the woman Meyers identified as "my girl friend", pleaded guilty specifically to charges that he testified falsely regarding Meyers' connection with the Ohio Company—Aviation Electric Corp.

Ex-King Michael To Delay Marriage

Sees Soviet Seeking To Create Impression He Deserited Country For Love

LAUSANNE, Jan. 7.—(INS)—The royal romance of Ex-King Michael and Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma ran aground temporarily today on the red rock of Russian-sponsored political intrigue in Romania.

According to sources close to Michael, he decided to postpone, for the time being, his marriage to the pretty princess.

He has made this difficult decision not because his love for the bright-eyed beauty of Copenhagen has cooled but because of what members of his entourage described as his sense of responsibility to the country over which he ruled as king.

Michael is convinced that the Soviet puppet government which compelled him to abdicate a week ago under a threat of civil war is trying to create the impression among the Romanian people that he ran away to marry a pretty girl and to enjoy life.

The ex-monarch feels that he must avoid any move which will give the Communist dominated government in Bucharest the opportunity to claim his actions confirm their contention that romance was the dominant factor in his abdication.

It is for this reason that Michael did not go direct to Copenhagen to see Princess Anne or to ask her to come to Lausanne immediately after he entered exile.

RESTRICTIONS ON INDEPENDENCE SQUARE BANNED

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—(INS)—A 35-year-old ordinance restricting the use of Independence Hall Square was ordered stricken from Philadelphia's statutes today in a ruling by Federal Judge William H. Kirkpatrick.

The judge ruled the measure illegal in announcing he would issue an injunction permitting eight anti-conscription organizations to hold a public rally at the shrine Saturday.

The city had refused the groups permission for the rally for fear the shrine might be damaged.

IT'S GETTING LATE, WARNS MR. MCGIVELRY

Horatius Q. McGivelry (of the Spring Hill McGivelry's) dropped in today. "Just thought I'd warn you fellows," says he, "it's getting late, getting later every day as a matter of fact".

"Getting late for what?" asked a customer who was just leaving.

"It's getting late for the inspection of cars. Comes January 31, and some of the lads will find they haven't had their cars inspected."

Of course we knew it all the time, but it was nice of our friend McGivelry to remind us and you of it. We're ready for your car any time, but don't let it go too long.

Would Test Right To Tax U. S. Incomes For Foreign Support

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—(INS)—A Chicago business woman wants to test the government's right to tax incomes of citizens for the support of foreign nations.

Mrs. Irene B. Whetstone, 52, a widow, was arrested after she refused to answer a summons from the collector of internal revenue who charged she owes $1,389 in income taxes.

After Federal Judge Walter J. LaBuy continued her case to Jan. 16, she said she refused to answer the summons because she wanted the government to go on record whether or not a citizen has to be taxed for foreign governments.

She declared she opposed the Marshall plan and cash aid to Europe.

OLD-TIME HOSPITALITY IN A MODERN SETTING

Call it a touch of the horse and buggy days if you will, but that old time hospitality was warm, it was genuine, it was remembered. And while the Castleton Hotel is modern in its facilities and appointments, we still cling to the old-fashioned idea that guests should be comfortable and satisfied.

Issue Warning On Exports Under Marshall Plan

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Senate steel investigators warned in a tentative report today that the prospect of continued heavy exports under the Marshall plan will force small steel businessmen "completely to the wall."

The senate small business subcommittee report, awaiting final approval by members, criticized findings of the administration's foreign aid experts and recommended:

1. A Federal Trade Commission investigation of such steel industry practices as purchase of plants by steel consumers and other producers, sales to subsidiaries and shifts in distribution.
2. Self-policing by the industry to break the "gray market" in steel by assuring all users a fair share at "reasonable prices."
3. Immediate action to develop sources of foreign scrap. The group declared itself "absolutely opposed to the export of scrap to foreign nations."

The subcommittee headed by Sen. Martin (R) Pa., submitted the draft report to senators on the eve of the first Marshall plan hearings.

FBI ENTERS CASE

ALBUQUERQUE, Pa., Jan. 7.—(INS)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation filed complaints Tuesday against six Albuquerque men, including three former policemen, accused of being involved in the looting of a wrecked trailer Nov. 21.

All are accused of taking merchandise from the wrecked trailer, owned by the Spector Motor Service, Chicago, which was in transit between Chicago and Philadelphia.

The body of Ben Jonson, noted English dramatist and poet, was buried standing up in Westminster Abbey. This was because King Charles I granted only "18 square inches ground" for that purpose.

Sixth List Of Speculators Is Made Public

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson made public today his sixth list of grain speculators and "hedgers" which includes the name of "Don Ameche, California."

The list merely showed names without identification and did not indicate whether the trader was the movie actor.

The latest market roll call carried the names of 4,842 speculators and 515 hedgers who were in the Chicago wheat futures market between Sept. 17 and 20.

Ameche was shown to have been "long" 90,000 bushels Sept. 17; to have bought 25,000 and sold 25,000 Sept. 18 and to have sold 35,000 on Sept. 19 and the same amount on Sept. 20.

Meanwhile, the Ferguson senate subcommittee on food speculation pushed its inquiry behind closed doors and prepared for a full dress hearing Friday on the market dealings of Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, White House physician.

Chairman Ferguson (R) Mich., said the subcommittee expects "an important witness" to appear in a secret session today as the group presses its study of the accounts of Graham and Edwin W. Pauley, special assistant to Army Secretary Royall.

Says Eisenhower Offers Leadership

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Mrs. Helen U. Loewen, of Harrisburg, vice chairman of the Pennsylvania Draft Eisenhower League, claimed Tuesday Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower offered the only kind of leadership necessary to bring the United States safely through the world crisis.

"In the world of tomorrow, it is vital to our survival to choose as president of the United States a strong leader respected by the Far East, admired by the western nations, and loved and honored by the American people," she asserted. "That man is General Eisenhower."

A Daughin county Republican leader who broke with the party last October, Mrs. Loewen called on Pennsylvanians to exercise free choice and support Eisenhower for the presidency.

The Pennsylvania League, supported by new guard Republicans is operating without the sanction of the general.

Dr. Bennett Will Dedicate Window Sunday Morning

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, on the public square, announces that the $2000 memorial window recently installed in the church, will be definitely dedicated next Sunday morning, January 11, at the 11 o'clock worship hour in the church.

The dedication service had been originally scheduled for Sunday morning, December 28, but due to Dr. Bennett's illness, the service had to be postponed. He will be in his pulpit Sunday morning to conduct the service. A full program is being arranged and will be announced on Saturday.

The large window will be dedicated to the memory of those from the church who served their country in all previous wars since the founding of the church. A bronze memorial plaque rests beneath the window inscribed with the date of dedication and the purpose of the window.

'Canes Humble Ambridge Five, 35-27

Brothers Counting Upon Atomic Right To K. O. Jeff Clanton

Locals Notch League Opener On Valley Floor

Janacone Top Man With 13 Points As Red And Black Win Inaugural

New Castle High's "Blitz Kids" defeated Ambridge last night 35 to 27 to start the Section Three race, but were not the same "ball of fire" club that defeated Sharpville and Ford City in their last two previous starts. The game was played at the Ambridge High floor.

Despite the fact that they won the game, the locals looked sluggish and lacked the "zip" that carried them to wins over such teams as Altoona, Johnstown, Erie Strong and Youngstown East. Coach Bill Douglas was plainly worried even in victory, as he realizes that the boys will have to look a lot better than they did last night when they face Aliquippa, Farrell, Sharon, Ellwood City and Beaver Falls.

Janacone Leads Attack

As has been the custom in the previous non-league games, young Jimmy Janacone led the Douglass coached flippers in scoring with 13 of the points, followed by Don Reed, the sophomore star, and Wayne Gray, the veteran guard, both with eight points. Don Black with his hand still in a cast, was not his usual self.

It was an even ball game in the first period, ending 6-6, but at the halftime mark New Castle was in front 19 to 12, as Janacone and Gray supplied 12 of the points, and Black had a foul. Ambridge was held to a lone field goal in the second period and made but six more points.

Face Maintained

New Castle maintained its pace in the third period, to stay in front 29 to 21 as the third stanza closed. Again Janacone sparked the locals with five of the points. Ambridge had nine points for their best showing in the game, with Seaman having five of the Bridgers points.

It was even-step again in the final period, both clubs scoring six points to give New Castle a 35 to 27 win. Both teams were off at the foul line. New Castle dropping but 7 out of 17 and Ambridge 9 out of 16.

Beaver Falls Friday

New Castle will play Beaver Falls High at Washington Friday night and Coach Douglas hopes that New Castle can continue their winning ways, having won their last four starts, but there must be some improvement in team play and passing.

New Castle lost the preliminary game, the Ambridge JV's winning 18 to 16.

Wilbur Thomas Sets Record

New Castle Rifle Club Star Shoots 249 Score Out Of 250 Possible Monday

Wilbur Thomas, brilliant young rifle star of the New Castle Rifle Club has the distinction of having shot the highest score in an Interstate league match, or maybe the highest in the country. Monday night at the Cathedral range, a 249 out of a possible 250 perfect score, as the New Castle club defeated Ellwood City 1182 to 1165.

Secretary Paul Carrigan announced today that an important meeting of the club will be held at the Cathedral range tonight, all members are to make it a point to attend.

Will Check Records

Scores of the match are as follows—New Castle—Thomas 249, Williams 236, Bowers 235, Carrigan 232, Moore 230, total 1182. Ellwood City—McCormick 235, Schweinsberg 234, L. B. Wilson 232, Mrs. Wilson 232, Mines 232—total 1165.

The local club intends to check the national rifle match records to see if any one had ever shot a 249 in competition heretofore. For 20 straight shots Thomas hit the bulls eye perfectly, which in our book is some shooting.

In one of the highest football scores on record, Haven (Kan.) High School defeated Silvia High School, 256 to 0, in 1929.

Joltin' Joe Ascends Into Big Money Class

(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A New York Yankee club official said today that Joe Dimaggio's income this year should be about $100,000.

This figure includes a salary believed to be $70,000, give or take a few bucks, and a lucrative payoff from radio appearances, testimonials and other sidelines.

When the big centerfielder signed his contract for an unannounced sum yesterday he climbed in among the highest paid players of all time, and he also received one of the biggest raises between seasons ever given any athlete.

His salary officially was $43,750 for 1942, before he went into the Army, and he received that same figure upon his return in 1946 and again last season.

Through this coming season, his 10th with the Yankees—the only major league club he ever played with—Dimaggio will have earned more than $300,000 in salary alone.

He has picked up approximately $35,000 more in seven world series, and many thousands more from various outside sources.

On the other side of the ledger, the playing side, he has been most valuable player in the American League three times, including last season; he set an all time record for a batting streak by hitting in 56 straight games in 1941 and he has been a tremendous all-around ball player.

Dropped But Once

He has hit major league pitching for an average as high as .381 and dropped below .300 only once, despite the fact that through most of his career he has been burdened with injuries of one kind or another.

The payoff came yesterday when he signed that contract for a figure some have set at $65,000 and others at $75,000.

Whatever it was, he seems to have a chance to top the $80,000 paid Babe Ruth for each of two years by that same club.

The most ever paid any other Yank, besides Ruth and Dimaggio, was a reported $41,000 received by Lou Gehrig.

A great year in 1948 would entitle the San Francisco Italian to a further raise. He can't stay in the big dough much longer, however. He is 34 years old and has suffered much wear and tear.

He has said that he has no ill or aches and really believes he will enjoy one of his biggest seasons.

An operation for removal of bone chips from the elbow of his throwing arm apparently fixed his right flipper as good as new and the heel which was sore all last season as a result of an operation has healed up with post-season rest.

He sees no reason to doubt that the Yankees are the team to beat in the world series again next season.

It may be of interest that in his nine active seasons, the Yankees have won seven pennants, finished third twice and lost only one world series. He's been the big gun.

Watters-F. Pitzer Give Elks Win

Defeat Butler Moose Tuesday At Butler By Score Of 56 To 34

Paced by young Don Watters and Francis Pitzer, the New Castle Elks made it two in a row over the Butler Moose at Butler last night, 56 to 34, and incidentally it was the sixth straight win for the local Elks club.

The Paul Morrison coached Elks led at the first period by commanding 19 to 4 score, and at halftime had increased their lead to 33 to 11. The sharpshooting Watters and F. Pitzer continued their blazing play in the final two periods to make the game a rout. Watters had eight field goals for 16 points, and Pitzer had 15. Bob Pitzer had 11 and so did Vinnie Kelly, both playing a good game. Best in the Butler lineup were Ianotti and Pucci.

The Elks will play at Washington High Saturday night, it was announced, their opponents being the fast Aliquippa Elks team made up of Beaver county coaches.

RICKEY TAKES OVER ACC CLUB

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(INS)—President Branch Rickey announced Tuesday that the Brooklyn Baseball club has "taken over" that borough's franchise in the All-America Football Conference and is prepared to operate the club at Ebbets Field next season.

Dodger spokesman issued his statement at a press conference prior to a scheduled news conference with the controversially-ridden Leo Durocher, re-hired as Brooklyn baseball manager after a season-long suspension in 1947.

Rickey, however, indicated that his baseball-football stewardship might be of a temporary nature. He added that the board of directors would "welcome" outside capital that wished to purchase the pro football franchise.

ELKINS HOPING RETURN TO CITY WILL MEAN WIN

New Castle Slugger Hopes To Nail Shifty Opponent In Arena Match

As tense as two pit terriers, New Castle's dynamic puncher, Elkins Brothers and Buffalo's shifty Jeff Clanton, both heavyweights are awaiting the song that will send them off in an eight-round punch duel in The Arena. Four bouts will proceed the grand finale, the first being docketed to begin at 8:30 p. m.

For days past, fans have been regaled with stories of their prowess. The qualities of both have been typed, and now that the night for the test has arrived, fans will trek toward The Arena turnstiles to see what they shall see, and they hope for a vicious fight.

Elkins has lost only one bout since he first strut a ring. That fight was lost on points to Ike Bell, a long-gated Youngstown heavyweight. Following that set-back he migrated to Washington, D. C., where he became a protégé of George Carter.

Has Won All

Since taking up his abode in the nation's capital he has had five or six fights, and according to reports, won them all. In addition he is said to have assimilated lot of keen fight knowledge from his training mate, Archie Moore, world's second best light-heavyweight.

As for Clanton, he has appeared here only once, but during that once he accomplished everything expected from him. He boxed Harold Hazlett of Rochester, N. Y., a punch inflicted a cut above the eye. The referee stopped the uneven fight.

At that time, some held the opinion that Hazlett was a better fighter than Brothers. Their opinion is mooted by others. But whoever was the best fighter doesn't mean a thing now. What does mean something is: who is the better fighter tonight, Clanton or Brothers? Only the actual fight can answer the question.

According to Matchmaker Tommy Leach, of the Jefferson A. C., the doors of The Arena will open at 7:30 p. m. An overflow crowd is expected. The five fights, 28 rounds being scheduled, will be under the supervision of the State Athletic Commission.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

THERE'S something extra special about a woman athlete who has won more championships and broken more world records than any other man or woman in history. The one girl with this something special is—of course—Babe Didrikson Zaharias. And what's more, the "Babe" herself is the first to admit she's much better than just good. A Coronet profile of her in the January issue points out that she has accepted that fact since she was a kid. "Of course I'm great," she is quoted as saying. She first started to show her stuff at old Beaumont high, back in Texas. She made the baseball, basketball, volleyball, tennis and swimming teams and captured the junior girls' diving and swimming championships of the city for three straight years. From then on her rise was what is called "meteoric." She led a Dallas Golden Cyclones girl basketball team to championship in 1931, trained for track and field work so that in the next year's Olympic tryouts she won five first places and tied for a sixth.

She was the sensation of the Olympics, but then that squabble about her amateur standing knocked her out of non-professional competition for years. The Babe's stint of barnstorming—including pitching for the House of David team—made her very unhappy, so she gave it all up and concentrated on golf. It took a long time, but in 1946 she was back in the good graces of the Amateur Athletic Union, and ready. Then (as who could forget) she won 17 straight major tournaments and wound up as the first winner of both the U. S. and British Amateur. Even the reserved British scribes exploded with such adjectives as "spectacular" and "phenomenal." Now hailed as the greatest woman golfer in history, she has turned professional—evidently to become also the richest woman athlete in the world. This Babe is now a well-groomed wife among the women in Denver and a far cry from the wild kid who over-played her anti-femininity, but she is still champ. Her recipe for athletic supremacy that Coronet quotes is a classic. Asked how she made her booming drives she explained: "Why, I just loosened my girdle and let the ball have it!"

Argentina will not field a soccer team in the Olympics. "In Argentina professionalism is too widespread, and it would be extremely difficult for us to make up a team that, abiding strictly by the accepted amateur rule, could make a decent showing at London," Dr. Daniel Piscicelli, vice president of the Association de Football Argentina, stated. . . . Johnny Longden is 77 short of 3,000 horse race wins. If he makes it 3,000, he will be the first American to do it. . . . Ruth McGinnis, who exhibited her billiards here recently, is now exhibiting her play in Philadelphia. . . . To D. B.: Yes, Dan Dailey knocked out Al Falzar in Pittsburgh. Here & There witnessed the fight. . . . Bill Jeffrey of Penn State is the new president of the National Soccer Coaches Association. . . . Tonight is punch night in The Arena, five pro' bouts being carded.

Louis-Walcott Rematch In June

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, despite a recent Philadelphia title-fight shopping tour and some wolf-hearted Louis-Lesnetich publicity, will defend his crown this June against Jersey Joe Walcott in one of the New York ball parks.

Sol Strauss, acting director of the 20th Century Sporting club (which reportedly has exclusive rights to Louis) announced yesterday he has "practically closed" a deal with the champion for the June bout.

Strauss postscripted a "subject to further discussion of the details" clause to the announcement, but said the "main terms" have been agreed to verbally by Louis.

Louis, his manager, Marshall Miles, Strauss and Louis' attorney, Truman Gibson, conferred for an hour-and-a-half yesterday, but there was an invisible "fifth party" who unquestionably influenced the proceedings.

Uncle Mike Jacobs convalescing czar of the boxing world intermittently telephoned into the "conference room" from Miami to check on the details. The "details," as such, are quite skimpy.

The only thing certain is that Louis will defend his title in June; that he will fight at that time solely for the 20th Century; and that he will get 40 per cent of the gate, plus a share of the television and radio rights.

Court House

Raise Salaries In Court House

Five Dollars Per Month Increase 'Across The Board' Granted Employees

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

Increases of five dollars per month for each employee of the court house staffs were granted Tuesday, January 6, when the salary board met. In addition, the salaries of all chief deputies will be unified, which will add slightly in two or three cases.

The increase will add about $7000 to the annual budget, it is thought. In addition to the monthly raises granted the appointed personnel, about $2500 will be added to the budget through increases to elective officers granted by the 1947 session of the General Assembly.

In comparison with counties of comparable size, it is said that the Lawrence county salary list is somewhat lower than the others.

NAMES CHIEF CLERK

County Treasurer Don I. Neal today named Miss Helen Haug as the chief clerk, to succeed Miss Jeannette DeCarbo, who is now the deputy county treasurer. Miss Haug has been in the office about 6 1/2 years. In both appointments Mr. Neal stayed inside the county treasurer's force, believing that the experience of the two named would be to the advantage of the office and the taxpayers.

VIEWS MEET

Viewers met in the court house Monday to assess benefits and damages to property owners on Garfield avenue. A sanitary sewer has been installed in the district. The board of viewers was composed of Attorney James E. Chambers, Ivor V. Davis and C. Harvey Milholland.

Mercer County Red Cross Plans March Campaign

MERCER, Jan. 7.—Mercer county chapter, American Red Cross, is planning to conduct its annual campaign early in March for its share of the $75,000,000 nationwide drive. William A. Bryer of Sharon, chapter chairman, said.

Bryer said he has written the newly-organized Shenango Valley Endorsement Council for permission to hold the campaign in March, as usual, when Red Cross campaigns are held throughout the country.

The Mercer county quota will be set after a meeting soon with a representative of national headquarters. The county campaign raised $63,057 last year.

The various parts of our bodies do not all grow old with the same rapidity, according to medical authorities.
